Sets Figure Prominently In CP's Suspense Play

By John Frisz

Preparations for "Dial M for Murder," the first suspense thriller to be presented at St. Joseph's in a number of years, are in their final week. Being a suspense thriller—although not a mystery play in the accepted sense, since the audience knows and watches the killer—"Dial M" has sets that play an important part in themselves. In particular, such a seemingly unimportant thing as a telephone ring will figure prominently in creating an atmosphere of anxiety and speculation.

Also, the device of a raised entrance landing will give to the different actors the advantage of speaking their lines from an impressive position. All of the production work is under the supervision of Dick Rezek and the chairmen of the various stage committees.

Success Depends on Expression

According to Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli, all of the actors in the play have potentially great roles. Most of the drama must be conveyed to the audience by means of accent and facial expression, and the interplay of the personalities and presence of all the characters will be most important.

Jack Carlson, in the starring role of Tony Wendice, will have the job of bringing to life the vain, sophisticated ex-tennis star whose motives for killing his wife are a product of his self centered personality. The elaborateness of the plot is suggested by Tony's proud confidence in the idea that he can commit "the perfect crime." The more direct and obvious motive is his desire for the reward of his wife's will.

Margot Wendice, as played by Ruth Nelson, is of course completely unaware of her husband's designs. She is the delicate, sensitive wife whose illusion of unsuspecting trust in Tony remains intact until the very last second of the play.

Balas Plays "Straight" Role

Bernie Balas will be the American T. V. writer, Max Halliday, a friend of the Wendices who stands by Margot in her ordeal. Max is a relatively straight character whose main importance in the play is that he impresses Tony with his detective fiction idea of a perfect crime. The part of the Scotland Yard inspector, whose polite and casually persistent sleuthing finally reveals Tony, will be enacted by Ed Hebda.

Captain Lesgate is an old school chum of Tony's whom the dissatisfied husband blackmails into the job of killing Margot. Lesgate, who has a rather suspicious past, fears that if he does not submit to the morbid plan, he will be revealed to the police. This role will be taken by Bill Schuler.

Class Convocation Opens Freshmen Election Campaign

The Freshman election campaign officially opened on Nov. 3 at a convocation put on by the class moderators, Rev. Ambrose Ruschau and Mr. James Beane, in conjunction with the Student Council.

Petitions were issued to prospective candidates for office. Candidates must have maintained a "C" average by mid-semester and they must gain the approval of their counselor. Fifty signatures from the members of the class must be obtained by each prospective officer's campaign manager, who also has the job of introducing his candidate to the 350 freshman at a future convocation.

The essential factor stressed at the convocation was that each student should realize the importance of the candidates they elect, especially for president. When elected he becomes an automatic member of the Student Council.

It was made quite clear that the faculty and upperclassmen will be looking to the freshmen to choose the best representative to the Student Council as well as in the other freshman offices of vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Students' Dads To be Honored At Last Game

The fathers of St. Joe students will once again be honored on the campus at the annual Dad's Day program, Nov. 12.

This day has been set aside for the purpose of paying special tribute to Dads and is held annually during the latter part of the football season.

The events of the day will begin with the St. Joe-University of Illinois (Chicago branch) football contest at 1:30 p.m. A gathering in the Rec Hall for all Dads and members of the faculty and administration will immediately follow.

A special program has been planned for the Dads of the members of the football team. Together with their sons, they will attend the 9:30 Mass on Saturday morning in the College chapel. Their special, pre-game dinner will be served after the Mass.

At 11:00 a.m. the fathers of the players will gather with their sons in the Rec Hall to witness the preliminary, indoor drills. The Rec Hall will, therefore, at this time be closed to all other students.

No exact estimate can be made, but with this year's enrollment topping all others before, a record crowd of Dads is expected to visit the campus.

Faculty Members Hold Dinner

The annual faculty dinner was held last Tuesday in the college dining room. All 76 members of the faculty and staff, as well as 15 wives of the lay faculty were invited.

Band Resumes Play as Spirit Suddenly Rises

by Greg Barrett

The band has come back. After being dropped a month ago, the organization has now doubled its membership and has produced spirit and enthusiasm among its members. What is the reason for this rebirth? Who is responsible for the sudden comeback?

Rev. Clement Kuhns, the moderator, gives the credit to Joe Maher and Bob Gasior. These two members of the old band did not give up, when the band was dropped. They started a campaign to form a new one. This campaign started Nov. 21, and since that time the membership has risen from 15 to 36.

Members Distribute Posters

Joe Maher says that this startling increase was due mainly to talking up the band around school and distributing posters all over the campus. The fellows responsible for these posters are Roger Peterka, Jim Walsh, Dave Cassin, Jim Deegan, Jerry Walsh, Fred Duprow and Bernard Lareau. Through their efforts the band was publicized throughout the St. Joe campus.

Now that the band is on its feet, plans are being made to play at the next home football game and at the home basketball games. They may also be able to conduct the annual Christmas concert and will most certainly have a spring concert in May.

Little Practice Time

These activities, however, depend on the St. Joseph student body and each member of the band. In the past the band wasn't able to perform as often as it would have liked. The reasons for this being that there was not and still isn't enough practice time and all the members could seldom be counted upon to attend.

Therefore if St. Joe is going to have the kind of band it wants, the whole student body must get behind it and each individual in the organization must give it all he has.

Student Council To Sponsor Fall Date Dance

An inexpensive date dance will be held on Nov. 19 for the benefit of students who can't afford most school dances. Just raise three dollars between now and the dance and you're in.

A three dollar fee—and it includes everything: a ticket of admittance for one couple plus a table reservation, a night's lodging at one of the Rensselaer hotels for your girl, and meals at the cafeteria while your girl is on the campus.

You can't afford to hesitate though. There is room for only 125 couples in the Rec Hall, and tickets will be sold on a "first come, first served" basis. The ticket sale will begin (probably in the cafeteria) on Monday, Nov. 14.

This new deal, which is being sponsored and financed by the Student Council, is strictly an experiment. It replaces the mixer which would ordinarily be held about this time. If successful, the Council will offer more of the same kind in the future.

Joe Maher's band, which normally plays at the mixers, will ease and rock you through the evening.

One last caution. The Council asks that you do not make a reservation unless you are certain your date is coming. The limited space in the Rec Hall will allow just so many couples to dance. So make sure your girl is coming, buy your ticket and reserve a table, then relax. The Council will handle all the details.

The only thing you must do—just have a good time. That's Saturday, Nov. 19.

Measure Sets First Deadline

The editor-in-chief of Measure, Joe Barnett, has announced that the deadline for the first issue is set for Nov. 15. Measure is St. Joseph's literary bi-annual which features fiction, poetry, essays, feature stories and various articles written exclusively by students.

Work is presently being done on photographs and art drawings for the illustrations. The art work is being headed by John O. Smith.

Thirteen St. Joseph's College seniors have been named to the annual Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The choices were based on scholastic and social ability and active participation towards the betterment of the school. Those seniors selected were:

Richard J. Barnett. Joe, an English major, is serving his second year as editor of Measure. He is also a member of the Don Bosco and Sanguinist Clubs and was co-chairman of last year's prom. Joe has been on the Dean's List a number of times.

Richard C. Dwinell. A business administration major, Dick is a top pitcher on the Puma baseball team. He is a member of the Monogram Club and was named to the 1954 ICC all-conference baseball squad.

Merle V. Effing. Merle is a physical education major and is a member of the Puma football and golf teams. He was captain of the golf team last year.

Patrick M. Evard. An army veteran of 15 months in Korea, Pat is the current president of the Student Council. He is majoring in business administration.

Marvin L. Hackman. Marv, a pre-law major, is an almost constant member of the Dean's List. He is also vice-president of the Student Council, a member of the Monogram Club, and plays varsity basketball.

Edward H. Hennekes. Accounting is Ed's major field and he is a member of the Commerce Club. He was vice-president of his class in his sophomore year.

Peter G. Higgins. The president of the Monogram Club and chairman of the inter-club committee, Pete played football until last year. He is a philosophy major.

Joseph A. Kneip. Joe, an English-journalism major, was editor of STUFF in his sophomore year. He is also a member of the track team, the Monogram Club, and Measure.

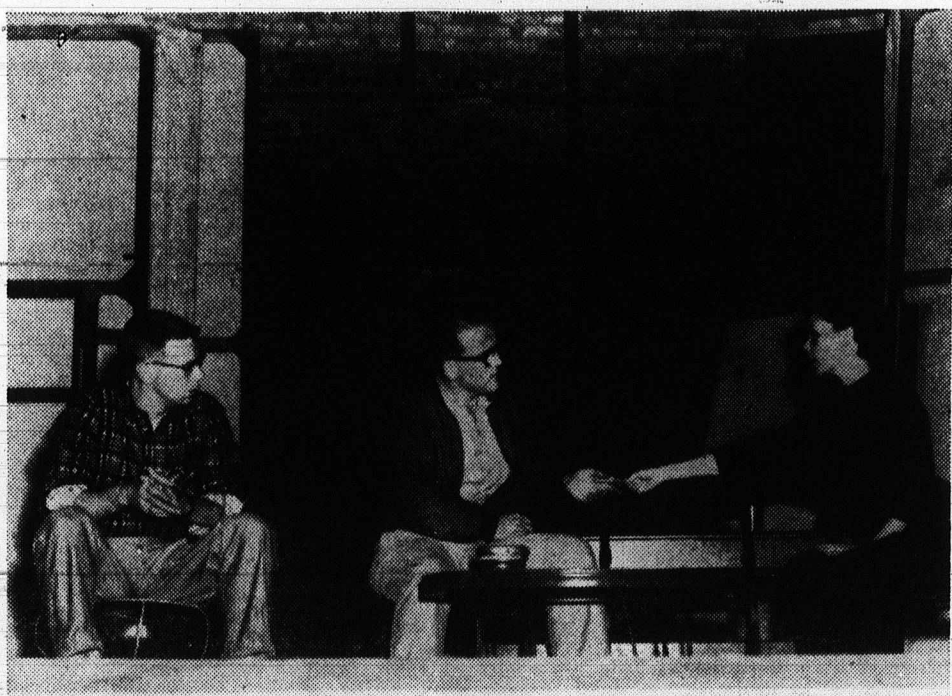

Joseph R. Maher. A frequent member of the Dean's List, Joe is on the school band and leader of a swing combo. He is a biology major and an officer of the Biology Club.

Timothy J. O'Brien. Tim, one of the married students attending St. Joseph's, is a liberal arts major. He was a sophomore class officer and played varsity basketball.

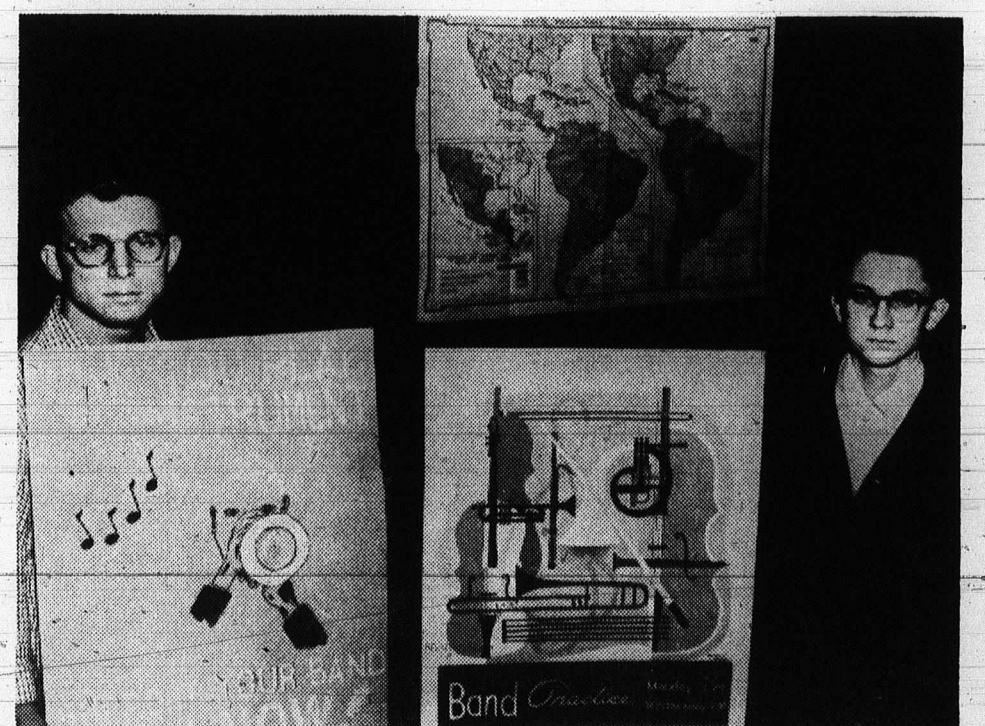

Donald L. Prullage. Don, who is a math major, is often on the Dean's List and is a member of the Glee Club.

Roger L. Uecker. Roger, who is serving his second successive term as class president, is another frequent Dean's List member. He has also been a member of STUFF, and Commerce Club sec'y. Roger is the current chairman of the Student Council welfare committee.

John F. White. An accounting major, John's many activities include member of the Monogram Club, STUFF, and Phase, and assistant intramural director. He played football in his freshman and sophomore years and was sophomore class president.

Jack Carlson, Ed Hebda and Ruth Nelson rehearses their parts in the Columbian Players' forthcoming presentation of "Dial 'M' for Murder." The suspense thriller will be given in the college auditorium on the evenings of Nov. 19 and 20. (Photo by Davoust)

Joe Maher and Bob Gasior display the signs which they used to help promote new interest in the college band. Mainly because of their work, the band is once again in action with more spirit than than the old members can remember having seen before. (Photo by Davoust)

Two Coeds Invade Campus

By Dave Bauer

If there are any persons on campus who think that St. Joseph's is strictly a male school, they should take another look! Yes, St. Joe does have coeds; two of them to be exact.

The first coed we would like to introduce is Mrs. Ray Yeoman of Rensselaer. This is her first year at St. Joseph's.

Mrs. Yeoman comes to St. Joseph's and Rensselaer from Tefft, which is in the northern part of the state. She graduated from high school in Tefft in 1942 and has since lived in Hammond and Lafayette.

Hopes to Become Teacher

After graduation from high school, Mrs. Yeoman found it difficult to attend college immediately, but upon moving to Rensselaer in January of this year and finding the college so close to her home, she made inquiries with Fr. Robbins and learned that it would be possible for her to attend St. Joseph's.

Mrs. Ray Yeoman

On the basis of her entrance examinations and the advice of Fr. Esser, she chose English as her major. Mrs. Yeoman hopes to teach grade school at one of the elementary schools in this area after her graduation. She is carrying 13 hours this semester and will continue on through the summer.

Mother of Three

Mrs. Yeoman is the mother of three children, Donald, Paul and Jane, ages seven, six and three. Donald and Paul attend Monnett and Rensselaer grade schools, respectively, while Jane stays with her aunt during the day.

Mrs. Yeoman's class schedule is so arranged that she is able to take the boys to school in the morning and pick them up in the afternoon. Mr. Yeoman is employed by the Jasper County Farm Bureau Co-op as an accountant.

When asked how she liked St. Joseph's, Mrs. Yeoman replied that "she had found everyone in and connected with the college most friendly and helpful."

Crusader Coed

The second coed is Mrs. Robert Cover, also of Rensselaer. Mrs. Cover is completing studies which were started at Valparaiso and Indiana Universities.

She is carrying six hours, three in English Literature and three in Personal and Community Health. Mrs. Cover has 60 hours in Home Economics and 90 hours in Public Health Nursing to her credit already. She hopes to eventually teach a course in science or Home Economics at Rensselaer high school and act as school nurse. Besides carrying six hours here at St. Joseph's, Mrs. Cover is employed at the Jasper County Hospital in Rensselaer.

Mrs. Robert Cover

Third Visit to St. Joseph's

In addition to her duties at the hospital, Mrs. Cover keeps the financial records for her husband, Robert, who is a general contractor. She also has her duties at home where Mr. John Ruble, assistant professor of accounting, resides.

Mrs. Cover was born and raised in and near Rensselaer. She graduated from high school in 1927 and from nurse's training in 1930. In 1949 she started her college work at Indiana University, continuing on with their extension course, and also at Valparaiso. She has spent two previous summers at St. Joseph's.

Mr. and Mrs. Cover until recently lived on a 240 acre farm near Virgie, Ind. They have three grown children and three grandchildren.

Collegeville Confidential

By Chuck Vietzen and John J. White

When the final gun sounded the Saturday night before last, it meant more than just a title that the Pumas have wanted so badly for so long. It was the end of two year's effort to rebuild the football fortunes of St. Joe. At that time St. Joe had on its hands a team which had gone winless in conference play and had little hope of anything different for future seasons.

But then someone else came on the scene. His name is Bob Jauron. Since his arrival the Pumas have managed to scramble over opponents by determination, ability, and spirit. We've come a long way.

St. Joe is today the home of the ICC co-titleholders of 1955 and they intend to stay that way for a long time. The Pumas have a right to pat themselves on the back for their faith in small college football, in their school, and in themselves has been shown and proven.

Congratulations to the co-Champions!

Fun For Low Cost

Nov. 19 marks the date of a new experiment in Collegeville social activity. The Student Council will underwrite the bulk of the expenses of an entire weekend for 125 dates. Housing, meals, and dance tickets are being supplied at little cost to those who wish to attend. Since there will be a considerable demand, the reservations are to be made on a first-come-first-served basis.

Those who attended the Homecoming and Fall Frolics dances probably will be given first choice for tickets. We feel sure that the event will be a success. It is a radical step in social life on campus. We can only hope that this event will be repeated in the future.

Band Booms Again

Despite a feeble response to the first call for band members, the unit is now almost up to the size of last year's band. By their efforts Bob Gasior and Joe Maher have succeeded in producing a turnout over twice the number of those who reported for the first practice.

A large measure of their success may be attributed to the all-out publicity campaign which the band has sponsored to induce new membership. Too often in the past when a club or organization has slipped in membership, the members have been quite willing to give it up as a lost cause. But thanks to these two men and Fr. Kuhns the band is still with us, and, we hope, will stay a long time.

Here, There, and Everywhere

Congratulations to Jim McPolin, Pete Higgins, Marv Hackman, Dan Lyman, Bob Companik, Joe Kneip, and the whole Monogram Club on the success of the Fall Frolics.

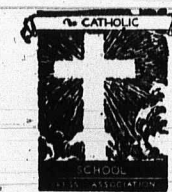

An additional attraction for the Nov. 19 date dance will be the C.P. production of "Dial M For Murder", which will begin at 7:15 that evening and 8:15 on Sunday night.

Don't lose patience! St. Mark's and Regina High's Glee Club definitely will be down. The Student Council recently agreed to furnish housing for this fine and entertaining group. The date will be sometime in the spring.

Both the Chicago and Lake County Clubs will hold their Thanksgiving dances on Friday, Nov. 25. Presidents Tom Holmberg and Bob Companik along with the other officers are making arrangements for two great dances. The former will hold their's at the Lions' Ballroom in Chicago and the other will be at the Croatian Hall in East Chicago.

Personals . . . Six-foot-six Stan Malinowski finding his four-and-a-half-foot Volkswagen parked in the Noll Hall lounge . . . a beautiful pair, the couple of the week, Bob Parker and Ron Pujo . . . STUFF — Thursday, November 10, 1955 — Page 2

No Interest?

Aren't you interested in your school newspaper?

In the Oct. 13 issue of STUFF we printed an editorial concerning the possibilities of a change in name for this publication. After offering to you, the reader, what we hoped were both sides of the story, we asked for suggestions and opinions as to what should be done, if anything.

Now, practically a month later, we find that the response to the article has been extremely poor. To be exact we have received just ONE suggestion.

This reaction, coupled with other pleas we have made asking for opinions as to how STUFF could be improved, leaves us with but one of two conclusions. Either the paper is already perfect in the eyes of the student body and there is no need for changing anything in it or else the student body just doesn't care.

Judging from the continual complaints received from students concerning various aspects of the paper, this first conclusion can be ruled out as being too ridiculous. That leaves us with just one alternative. The student body just doesn't care or, to be more concise, lacks the bare essentials of school spirit in anything but athletic activities.

We know that there are many students who disapprove of the name STUFF wholeheartedly. What we don't know is why they are so hesitant about making their views public when the issue is at hand. There are also others who feel that the name is adequate and should be allowed to remain, however they too are seemingly shy when it comes to making their opinions known.

All letters received by the paper will be published regardless of the views stated. Therefore, don't feel that unless your opinion coincides with that of the staff it won't be printed.

We're here to serve the school and that includes the student body. But without cooperation our responsibilities to you are made difficult, if not impossible, to fulfill.

Back Your Elections

With freshmen elections only weeks away, this is the time for some serious thinking on the part of the whole class. Although it is impossible to know the merits of our classmates in freshman year, the voting should not be based solely on friendship.

Too often in the past elections have been won by the popularity of an individual and not by his abilities to hold office. This procedure may often prove fatal to a class which otherwise would be a sound one, so vote wisely, freshmen.

Letters to the Editor

Brother Cletus Scheuer, C.P.P.S.
St. Joseph's College
Collegeville, Indiana

Dear Editor:

In a recent issue of STUFF I noted your lengthy discussion of your desire to have the name of the publication changed, as well as your suggestion for such a change by an outside critical source.

After being associated in some capacity in the mailing of a majority of the 18 volumes that have been distributed here on campus and sent to subscribers, I agree that the name could be improved upon, mainly for the sake of clarity. The coverage of the name is too broad, too indefinite, and very few readers think of the more favorable meaning or are reminded of Shakespeare when STUFF is mentioned.

A survey of titles of other newspapers would show that nearly every one has some word in the title to help limit it to its particular source or city. There are too many, some undesirable, meanings of the word "stuff." Most of the time when we hear it used we think of something of little value. It is not natural for the casual reader to lift something so indefinite to an exalted meaning.

Should your faculty advisor and staff desire suggestions for a new name, I should like to offer the title "The Fountain." There has been a spray of rainbow colors cloaking the fountain in the front pond of the college for many years, even before most of us arrived as students. I would like to see the news of St. Joseph's springing from a source bearing that name, and reminding alumni and friends of one of the real beauty spots of our campus.

Very sincerely yours,
Brother Cletus, C.P.P.S.

Fr. Raymond Gatzka, C.P.P.S.
St. Anthony of Padua Church
Park Falls, Wisconsin

Dear Editor:

It took me some months to engage in discussion with many of our Fathers, a goodly number on the faculty at St. Joseph's, pointedly on the qualities and defects of your really fine publication, STUFF.

Allow me to say that if you are interested in a more friendly paper, one at the same time provocative of Catholic courtesy and culture in lay-priest relations, "can" the "Rev." and speak of the priests as "Father." You want your paper informal!

At the same time I write congratulations to you and your staff. Many of us follow St. Joseph's with good interest through STUFF.

Yours, cordially, in Christ,
Fr. Gatzka, C.P.P.S.

We appreciate hearing from STUFF readers and welcome any and all suggestions pointed at improving the paper. In regard to Fr. Gatzka's suggestion to drop the "Rev." when referring to priests, we are bound in this case by style. Many of these minor points seen in STUFF are in accordance with a style book which governs disputable cases.

Many of the choices made in our style book may not seem quite appropriate to all our readers, but taken as a whole the guide is adequate in STUFF's case. It would greatly hinder the unity of the paper to select parts of many style guides in editing the different stories. ED.

A swarm of Heidelberg tacklers close in on Puma quarterback Roger LaPointe in last week's non-conference loss. The St. Joe eleven were never out of contention, but finally dropped the game as a result of a missed point-after-touchdown, 14-13.

Varsity Views

by Tom Phillipp

Indiana Collegiate Conference history was made with the Pumas and the Evansville Aces sharing the football championship. It was the first time for either. Coach Bob Jauron's boys can boast still a better record in their sparkling defense, however. Earlier conference bests fell to the wayside as the 1955 Pumas held their opposition to a scanty 52 points in 6 games, due particularly to their three impressive shutouts over Valpo, Indiana State and Ball State. Moreover, the Joemen's 149 points scored offensively is second only to co-champion Evansville's total of 199 in one of the strongest seasons in I.C.C. history.

In a repetition of last season's situation, Ball State held the role of spoiler for the championship-hungry teams. Whereas last year they whipped Evansville in the season's finale to give Valpo undisputed honors, the Cardinals succumbed to the cellar this season as they were shutout in their final two tilts by the new co-champions.

Fullback Leroy Thompson got the 108 yards he needed to break the I.C.C. record for rushing in the Bulldog's 24-14 loss to Valparaiso. The Capital City club also lost Thompson for the season, though, when he was carried from the field in the first half with torn leg ligaments. The 108 yards gave Thompson a total of 539 yards, one more than the old mark set by Ken Lutterbach of Evansville last year. He has another season to play, however, since he is only a junior.

Post-season Profile: In extra-conference contests, I.C.C. clubs have found meager success. Although the entire record is 7 won, 6 lost, the four top powers have only 2 victories against 5 defeats. The new champions have only a 1-3 record in outside competition.

Pumas Overcome Strong Opposition To Take First League Championship

by Tom Phillipp

St. Joseph's Falls To Unbeaten Foe

The Pumas ran into non-conference trouble last Saturday when they dropped a heart-breaking 14-13 decision to Heidelberg College of Tiffin, Ohio.

Heidelberg, now unbeaten in 10 straight games, was outweighed and outgained but never outplayed as they scored twice in the first half and then played on the defensive most of the second half.

The Student Princes of Heidelberg drew first blood midway in the first period when after stopping a Puma drive on their own 12, marched 78 yards in 9 plays for the TD. Quarterback Bryan Powers climaxed the drive when he hit Little All-American halfback Walt Livingston with a 28 yard touchdown pass. Matt Rock kicked the extra point.

The Pumas came right back, however, in the opening minutes of the second quarter when they moved 56 yards for the tally. Ralph Tite climaxed the drive by going over from 1 yard out. Merle Effing missed the extra point that was to prove St. Joe's undoing.

Heidelberg wound up their scoring for the afternoon in the final minutes of the second quarter when they put on a 52 yard sustained march for the touchdown, Livingston eventually bullying over from the 2 yard line. Matt Rock's game winning conversion split the up-rights.

The touchdown came in the final minutes of the game when Ralph Tite passed 12 yards to end George Sherwood for the tally. This time Effing's extra point was good to make the final score.

For the first time in the history of both the present conference and the college a share in the league's championship rests in Collegeville.

From the first kick-off in the initial game with DePauw a rejuvenated Puma eleven encountered stiff opposition in every game. This season the conference experienced some of the most evenly balanced and toughest competition that it has seen. Pre-season predictions favored a battle among Valparaiso, Butler, and Evansville, with Ball State Award, led the team to their fourth straight win.

The Pumas' lone loss came at the hands of their co-champions, the Evansville Aces, in the southern city. Utilizing the Joemen's costly fumbles, the Aces never trailed in their 26-19 night game victory. Tite's passes to Hamman and Daigle accounted for the Puma scoring.

The last hurdle for the Collegeville club was conquered when they wrapped up the championship by whitewashing Ball State 28-0 in a wintry night game in Rensselaer. The Jauronmen's ground game spelled the difference as Hamman tallied three times and Tite once.

Intramural Scoreboard

by John F. White

The Noll Nine, previously dubbed the Junior Varsity of Noll Hall, came from their own 20 yard line in the last two minutes to upset their powerful hallmates, the Lions. The game was played in the snow Thursday afternoon but the Nine didn't let it bother them as Larry Stark hit Tom Phillipp in the end zone on the last play to make it a 6-0 ballgame. It was the Lions first defeat of the season.

With the Lions loss the Bombers from Bennett moved into undisputed first place in the Western Division. This leaves the seniors with only the Lions to beat in order to move into the playoff with the Eastern Division winner. In the Student Council Tourney the Lions clipped the Bombers 6-0 so the return match should be one to see.

In the Eastern Division the Left-Overs from Drexel Hall appear to be in unless either of the Ad. Building teams, the Clowns or the Bums, are able to knock them off this week.

Two overtimes were witnessed in the Eastern Division as the Blue Blazers downed the Flubs 13-6 and the Turkey Lovers were nipped by the Basement Bums 6-0. John Wilson of the Left-Overs provided a rarity in I.M. football when he scored twice against the Flubs on runs of 75 and 45 yards.

The upper-class loop saw the Bombers take the Bulldogs 13-0 and the Noll Nine 7-2. The league leaders trounced the Trojans 20-0. The Chi-Guys dropped one to the Nine 6-0.

Unless a tornado comes up this week, Mr. Beane hopes to have the grid season finished by Monday, Nov. 14. This is the date set for the playoff between the division champions for the school title.

League standings prior to this week's action are as follows:

| Left-Overs | 5 | 0 | Bombers | 6 | 0 |
| Science Dorm | 4 | 1 | Lions | 5 | 1 |

St. Joe Downs Ball State 28-0 In ICC Finale

St. Joseph's nailed down the co-championship of the Indiana Collegiate Conference a Saturday ago when the Pumas plowed under Ball State by the score of 28-0 at the Rensselaer high school field.

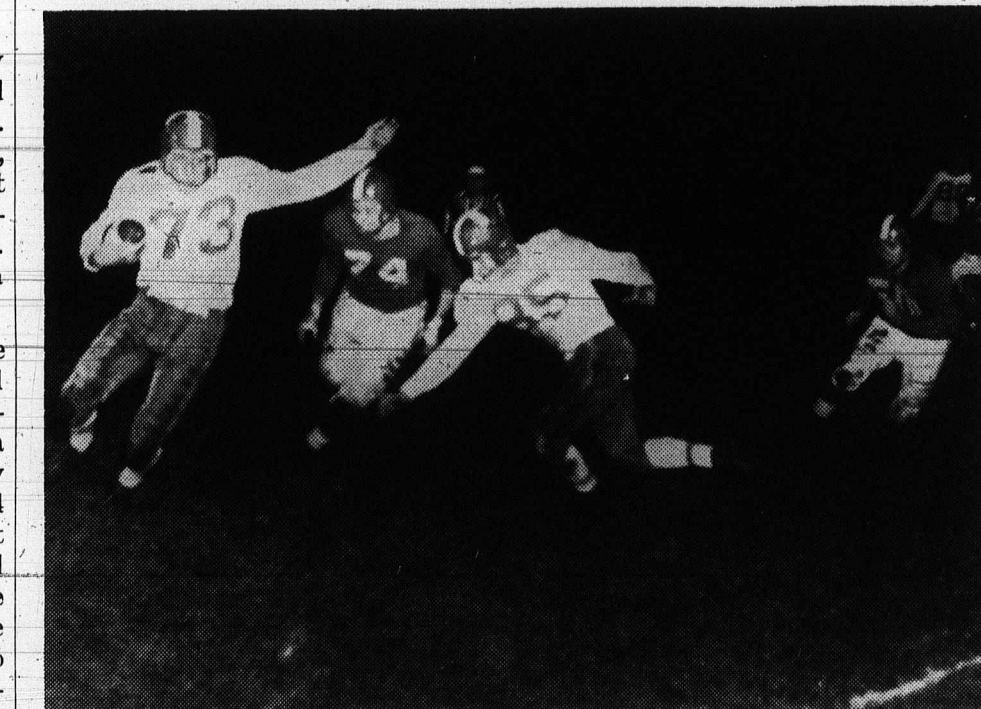

The Pumas played a control type of offense as they held the ball for most of the game while Ball State never threatened once.

St. Joe's first tally came in the waning minutes of the first period when they put on a 43-yard scoring drive. Bob Hamman capped the drive by scoring from the 2-yard line. Rog LaPointe added the extra point.

With less than a minute to play in the same quarter, St. Joe set up their second touchdown. Bob Hamman returned a Ball State punt to the Cardinals 19-yard line. Three plays later the quarter ended with the ball on the Ball State 1. On the first play of the second period, Ralph Tite plunged over for the touchdown. LaPointe's conversion made the score St. Joseph's 14-Ball State 0 at halftime.

St. Joe put the game on ice early in second half when they talled twice in less than five minutes. The first time they got the ball, they marched 56-yards in eight plays for a touchdown with Hamman going the last three yards. LaPointe's third straight extra point made the score 21-0.

Following the kick-off after the touchdown, the Pumas forced Ball State to punt. Cardinal Quarterback Len Buczkowski got off a booming kick that St. Joe Safety Man Bob Hamman took on the 4 and returned to the 21. On the next play Ralph Tite brought the chilled Puma rooters to their feet as he raced 69-yards to the Ball State 10-yard stripe. Two plays later Bob Hamman scored his third touchdown as he crashed over from the 5. LaPointe's conversion was good to wind up the scoring for the evening with the final score St. Joseph's 28-Ball State 0.

Chuck Spielman, 73, throws a key block into a Ball State tackler to spring Tom Deem, 85, loose on a ground-gaining end run. The Pumas piled up 28 points while holding State scoreless to tie for the Indiana Collegiate Conference title.

Glee Club to Open Season At Parish Dinner Nov. 13

The "Singing Seventeen" of the SJC Glee Club opens the season in Pulaski on Nov. 13. The occasion is a Holy Name dinner for the men of St. Joseph's Parish of Pulaski. The sponsor of this engagement is the local pastor, Rev. Cyril Ernst, C.P.P.S.

This is the fourth time that Fr. Ernst has sponsored the SJC Singers. On two previous occasions, in 1953 and 1954 the entire glee club was invited to Pulaski.

In 1952, when Father Ernst was pastor of Wapakoneta, Ohio, he was partly responsible for making the Gleemen a traveling club. He sponsored, feted and encouraged the club in its early traveling years.

Feature Four Soloists

The program for Pulaski will include such numbers as "De Animals a-Coming," "Too-Ra-Loo-Ra-Loo-Ral," and "The Donovans." Soloists featured will be Bill Gleason, Terry O'Hagen, Jack Tobin and Bill Walters—all veteran members of the club.

Plans are already getting under way for the major concerts on and off campus. Although most of these plans are still in the tentative stage, two major concerts can be announced at this time. First, the Annual Fall Music Festival, Dec. 13 at 8:00 p.m. Details will be carried in a later article.

Hold Thorne Hall Concert

Second, the annual Thorne Hall Concert, which will be presented at Thorne Hall, located on the downtown campus of Northwestern University in Chicago, Feb. 12. The St. Francis Chorale of St. Francis College, Joliet, has been invited to participate in this concert. It will be sponsored by the SJC Fathers and Mothers Clubs, the respective presidents of which are Mr. E.-A. Dwiell and Mrs. F. J. Stucker.

Locally, tickets will be available from the office of the Moderator of the Fathers and Mothers Club, Rev. Richard Baird, C.P.P.S. Further details about the concert will be available later.

Campus Clubs Complete Holiday Dance Plans

The Dick Carlton orchestra will be featured at the Chicago Club Thanksgiving Dance on Friday, Nov. 25. The date dance will be held in the Lion's Ballroom, 4306 W. North Ave., West Chicago.

Carlton's orchestra, which will play from 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m., appeared this past summer at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. It has also played in hotels in many other states as well as Bermuda and Canada. According to Chicago Club president Tom Holmberg, the orchestra appeared at a St. Joseph's prom a few years ago.

Stuff Receives National Rating

The rating All-Catholic has been awarded to STUFF for the 1954-55 school year. The award was made in the annual survey conducted by the Catholic School Press Association at the Marquette University college of journalism.

The St. Joseph's College newspaper also received a Second Class honor rating from the Associated Collegiate Press of the University of Minnesota.

The ACP rating STUFF received is intended to show how it compared with other papers in its own classification throughout the nation. ACP has certain basic standards for coverage, writing and physical properties which must be met to earn honors.

In the field of coverage STUFF received 280 out of a possible 400 points. Coverage includes news sources, the balance maintained between the various sources, the treatment of the copy, vitality and creativeness.

In content the paper was given 265 out of a possible 375 points. This field includes style, leads, feature stories, speech and interview stories and copyreading. The score received for the department pages, which include the editorial and sports pages, was 210 out of 300 points.

For general makeup of the paper STUFF amassed 345 out of a possible 375 points. The total score for headlines, typography and printing was 290 out of 300 points. Photography received 30 of 50 possible points.

This total of 1420 points for the year was the basis upon which STUFF received its Second Class rating with ACP.

Council to Award 55 IM Trophies In Four Sports

Fifty-five individual trophies will be awarded by the Student Council to the intramural tournament winners in the four major sports. The trophies will go to the tourney champions in football, basketball, 12" softball, and 16" softball.

The Council also plans to purchase 20 new tables for use at the major school dances. These tables will be able to accommodate either six or eight people, depending on the crowd at the individual dance. Rev. D. Schaefer has offered to match the number of tables the Council buys through fines and pinball machine profits. This would give the school 40 new tables for dances.
